Great Fall Festival "Sukkot"

At Chapel Grace This Saturday
October 11th from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

A Time of Celebration and Joy. Music, Games, Crafts, Jams & Jellies, Jewish Dance, BBQ, Fruits & Vegetables. Fun for the whole Family.
The Festival of Sukkot begins on the fifth day after Yom Kippur. It is quite a drastic transition, from one of the most solemn holidays as Yom Kippur to one of the most joyous. Sukkot is so unreservedly joyful that it is commonly referred to in Jewish prayer and literature as the Season of our Rejoicing. Historically, Sukkot commemorates the forty-year period during which the children of Israel were wandering in the desert, living in temporary shelters. Agriculturally, Sukkot is a harvest festival and is the Festival of Ingathering. The word "Sukkot" means "booths," and refers to the temporary dwellings that we are commanded to live in during this holiday in memory of the period of wandering.

Shoe Box Ministry

While the Back to School Sales are on, we thought it would be great to get started on our annual shoe box ministry. It is so easy. All you need to do is decide what age boy or girl you would like to sponsor. Ages 2-4, 5-9, or 10-14. Then start collecting items for them that will fit into a shoebox. Contact Claudia Semple at 960-9186 for details or to help.

Trunks or Treats on Friday,
October 31st From 6 to 8 p.m.

Any volunteers welcome. Help needed for: working food booths, prayer tent, information tent, pulling hay ride, passing out candy from the trunk of your car. Please bring in donations of Candy, as well. Sign Up Sheet at the Soundbooth.

California Missions Moment

California Mission Offering provides help for ministers

Sometimes it's the pastors who need pastoral ministry. And sometimes it's funds from the California Mission Offering (CMO) that provide it. In the case of Francisco Mendoza, bivocational pastor of First Baptist Church in Farmersville, the need was economic, born out of a horrific accident Aug. 5, 2012. In the process of burning off brush at the church property that Sunday, the container of gasoline in his hands caught fire and exploded, causing major burns on his arms, hands, legs, stomach, and even his face. Mendoza spent a month in the hospital and underwent several skin grafts; 11 months later he still lives with pain, and wears clothing designed especially for burn victims. Such an accident would be a setback for anyone, but for a bivocational pastor whose "day job" is in construction, and whose family includes six children (four at home), the cost was particularly high. Enter a fellowship of local pastors and the California Mission Offering. A pastor from nearby Sanger notified the California Southern Baptist Convention healthy church group about Mendoza's situation, which dispatched funds to the family to help them weather the economic storm. "That really helped," said Mendoza, a native of Mexicali who has been in California since he was 17, and in ministry for 23 years. "Also, we have some government assistance, and some of the churches are helping, and here and there God's people come through for us. Any way I see it it's been hard. But we don't feel led to leave the church right now." It's precisely these types of situations that some of the California Mission Offering is set aside to ameliorate.
