California Missions Moment

REACHING THE WORLD
IN CALIFORNIA

A few thousand years ago, Ruth asked Boaz: "Why have I found favor in your eyes that you should take notice of me since I am a foreigner?" (Ruth 2:10, NKJV). Ten years ago, Tom Stringfellow took note of foreigners with the compassion of Boaz, who told his harvesters to leave grain for Ruth and her family. Stringfellow, director of missions for Sierra Butte Baptist Association in Yuba City, was a pastor in Beverly Hills when he began the Feeding Those Who Feed Us ministry in 2002. What began as a local effort has grown far beyond his expectation: "I never intended for it to get this big," said Stringfellow, noting his initial motive was to get his church to become more missions minded. "I'm overwhelmed by the ministry's success." FTWU ministers to impoverished migrant farm workers across California by offering spiritual guidance, medical/dental care and material needs. It begins this year in mid-June and ends in mid-August. The ministry offers New Testaments in either Spanish or English along with staple food items for each family. Children under 12 receive a modest supply of new clothes, and the program provides Vacation Bible Schools at numerous locations across the state, where local churches can provide leadership.
